Late Falls Twp. Woman Names 8 Heirs to Share In the Estate

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 9 — A bequest by Milton D. Otto, Bensalem township, of $500 for the Bustleton Methodist Church, was revoked in his will because he gave the church the $500 before he died.

Leaving an estate of $12,500, the testator, who died Sept. 26, in his will written Jan. 30, 1942, named the Bustleton Methodist Church the beneficiary of $500. In a codicil, dated Feb. 7, 1945, he revoked the bequest because he took care of giving the money himself.

George F. Otto, 5928 Nassau st., Phila., and Joseph C. Otto, Cornwells Heights, were each bequeathed jewelry, clothing and furniture. A trust fund was created to benefit George F. and Joseph C. Otto and their wives, Edith M. and Anna M. Otto, and their heirs.

George and Joseph Otto were named executors of the will. A brother, Joseph W. Carns, was named the residuary beneficiary of the $2,025 personal and $5,000 real estate holdings left by Sallie Carns, Solebury twp. The testatrix, who died May 30, named Henry Carns, 1701 McGalliard ave., Trenton, N. J., the executor. The will was dated July 30, 1948.

Two sisters, May and Rachel Dudgeon, were bequeathed the farm, livestock and money of Jesse R. Dudgeon, Doylestown twp., who

MARGARET SITTIG

Violinist, who with her father, Frederick Sittig, will present a concert here Dec. 11th.

PROMINENT VIOLINIST WILL BE HEARD HERE

Margaret Sittig and Father, Frederick Sittig, To Appear Dec. 11th

SPONSORSHIP OF CLUB

Acclaimed by a New York publication as "one of the most talented of women's violinists," Margaret Sittig is to be presented in a concert here on the evening of Tuesday, Dec. 11th, at 8:30. This violin-piano presentation will feature Miss Sittig and her rare old violin, together with her father, Frederick Sittig, pianist.

The Travel Club is presenting the Sittigs, the concert being a benefit for the Lower Bucks County hospital fund. The program will be staged in Bristol high school auditorium.

Mrs. Albert M. Dowden, a member of the music committee of the club, is serving as concert chairman. Tickets will go on sale next week.

Miss Sittig's successes, both in America and Europe, have been much heralded, placing her among the foremost concert violinists of the day.

At the age of 10 years, because of her proficiency, Princess Louise von Schoenburg-Waldenburg presented Miss Sittig with a rare violin. Her ability attracted attention of Leopold Auer, and she became his pupil. While in her early teens she gained a reputation as soloist with the Sittig Trio, and numerous recitals and radio broadcasts over large networks were participated in.

Miss Sittig has appeared as soloist with Philadelphia Orchestra, under the direction of Leopold Stokowski.

Invitation Issued To Visit Newtown School

NEWTOWN, Nov. 9 — November 11-17 is American Education Week and everyone is invited to visit Newtown school to see the work being done there. This announcement was made at the meeting of the school board held at the home of the secretary, Mrs. William Morlok, Jr., Monday evening, with Dr. W. Arthur Roberts in charge.

Norman W. Kratz announced the teachers workshop, November 14th, will be held in Area 5, which includes Newtown, the morning session being devoted to a discussion of remedial reading. During the afternoon, Morton Botel, of the county board of education office will enter into plans with teachers in regard to remedial problems. He has spent one day in September and one in October with teachers in regard to pupils having special problems along these lines.

Mr. Botel will advise the teachers, and particularly Mrs. Emily Galtier, guidance teacher, with regard to adjustment problems, rather than the pupils themselves.

A fire drill held October 25th showed the building cleared in one minute, five seconds.

New oil burners are to be installed in Newtown school, part of the work being done during Thanksgiving vacation and the remainder at Christmas vacation.

Each member of the school board was handed a copy of an article running currently in a magazine entitled "Who's Trying to Ruin Our Schools," and were asked to be on the alert for any communistic tendencies showing in the school system.

ENGAGEMENT

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Edith Louise Hibbs, N. Radcliffe street, daughter of Mr. Earl J. Hibbs, to Sgt. Robert H. Young, son of Mrs. Thelma Earnest, 916 Sycamore avenue, Croydon.

THE PHILADELPHIA RESULTS

Down in the City of Brotherly Love, the Republicans are licking their wounds, the Democrats are crowing, and the "independents" are bragging about a "popular uprising" against long-entrenched corruption and indifference.

After more than sixty years, Philadelphia has gone Democratic. The same Democrats who said during the campaign that the election there had no national significance today are declaring that the Democratic victory in the metropolis foreshadows a national democratic victory next year.

From the Republican point of view, the defeat has plenty of bad points, but some good ones as well.

The bad points are obvious enough. Let's look for some of the good ones.

For one thing, loss of the city government takes what is sometimes called "a monkey off the back" of the Republican party statewide.

For twenty years there has been a calculated buildup by Philadelphia Democrats to the effect that the Philadelphia government was "corrupt and content," and that city hall was full of "drones."

The now defunct Philadelphia Record and its former publisher J. David Stern gave great currency to those charges.

Never by any process has the Republican organization in Philadelphia been able to refute or to live down these accusations.

That they have been grossly exaggerated is almost certainly true, but nevertheless there have been abuses — not a big city on the face of the earth escapes abuses.

The political background of the so-called evidence is transparently plain. The Republican administrations have been investigated by hostile Democrats representing

INFORMS OF CHANGES EXPECTED IN SCHOOLS

Bristol Twp. Has More Pupils Than Any Twp. In Co., Boehm Tells PTA

NURSERIES NEEDED

Dr. Charles Boehm, superintendent of Bucks county schools, was the speaker last evening before 33 members of Delhaas Parent-Teacher Association in the Delhaas high school library. Presiding was John Packard, president. Mrs. Donald Moyer was in charge of minutes.

Program chairman, J. E. Sparks, introduced Dr. Boehm, who stated the progress being made to alleviate influx of children into Bristol township schools "is of greater importance than the people of this township care to realize."

He mentioned that one-half of "Levittown" will be in Bristol township, but that Fairless Hills project is not expected to extend into the township until about 1953. Quoting Dr. Boehm: "This township has more pupils than any township in the county. Bucks county has the second lowest birth rate in Pennsylvania. Pike county is the only one lower, yet Bristol township is the largest district in the county not having its own fully accredited high school. The Negro influx into the township is not expected to be so large as their birth rate on an average is rated lower than the white."

"U. S. Steel in 'Levittown' will produce great changeovers in this area. . . . First of all, most people moving into this area are under 50 years of age, making it a young township."

Mother Testifies From Chair In Front of Court Room

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 9 — With their mother, Clara P. Young, 77, 25 Murphy avenue, Bristol Terrace, having to be carried into the court room on a chair because she is helpless, President Judge Hiram H. Norman C. Young is providing a home for his mother and his wife is giving her 24-hour nursing attention. Another son, William L. Young, who lives at his brother Norman's home, is contributing to his mother's support.

JUDGE DISMISSES CASE AGAINST A CROYDON DRIVER

Judge Keller Disposes of The Charge "Driving Too Fast for Conditions"

WHO IS TO DECIDE?

Horace L. Beck Was The Defendant In The Case Heard

DOYLESTOWN, Nov. 9 — A case against Horace L. Beck, Fourth avenue, Croydon, charged with operating his car too fast for conditions, was dismissed by Judge Hiram H. Keller, Wednesday. Judge Keller disposed of the charge, "Section 1002A, driving too fast for conditions," by ruling that who is to decide when a car is going too fast and on whose opinion should the arrest be made.

Judge Keller addressing the officer said: "Officer, in a criminal case, you must show that the defendant was reckless when it came to handling his car.

"This charge, or type of arrest, calls for an opinion and the opinion, to be valid, must arise from the evidence and not from what you thought," said President Judge Keller to the Langhorne State Policeman, who arrested the truck driver August 28th, at Feasterville. The defendant never took the witness stand because his counsel, Webster S. Achey, made a motion that there was not enough evidence to warrant a criminal offense.

The State police officer testified Beck, who was driving a truck, figured in a collision with a motorcycle driven by Roland Stoltz at the intersection of Bustleton Pike and Fifth avenue.

A dog leaped out at the truck and was killed and this incident is alleged to have thrown the truck out of control.

Although the truck skidded 120 feet and was going down grade, counsel for the defendant insisted Beck was driving around 30 miles an hour within a posted zone of 25 miles per hour speed limit.

HOUSEWIVES FOR DEFENSE

Less than 15 months hence, by the end of 1952, Secretary of Labor Tobin expects the nation's defense workers to total 8,500,000 as contrasted with 2,700,000 in 1950. In a booklet prepared by the Bureau of Employment Security, Mr. Tobin said 2,000,000 more defense workers would be needed in 1951, which has little more than two months to go.

The labor secretary did not say he expected this need to be met that early, but he has no doubt about the figure of 8,500,000 when defense activities are expected to reach their peak in December, 1952.

Where are these workers coming from? Cutbacks in materials sought for civilian industry will release many skilled workers to engage in national defense, as some cities have serious "spotty" unemployment problems while others are seeking manpower.

But to complete the 8,500,000 there will be need for 4,500,000 next year from two distinct classes. White collar workers, impelled by patriotism or attracted by much higher wages, are counted upon to supplement the force by 1,500,000. But twice that number, or 3,000,000, must come from the housewife class, women drawn out of private homes.

Absorption of 3,000,000 homemakers into defense industry will be comparable, if it comes to that in time of peace, with what the nation weathered in World War II.

YOUTH'S COURAGE

Man is not inherently pessimistic. He faces the future with courage.

Frequently the statement is made, usually by those middle-aged or older, that they certainly would not want to bring a child into the world, conditions being as they are.

These oldsters fear two things. They fear the child either will live long enough to lose his life on a battlefield, or if he does not live long enough for that, his life will be snuffed out in an atom bomb or germ war. Or they fear he will face a hopeless economic future.

Probably back in the days after World War I oldsters were saying the same things. Children did grow up to bear arms. Some of them died. But a great many did not. The great depression came, but it was survived.

Every day long lists of births are printed in the newspapers. This steady stream of births proves that the oldsters are not having their way. Their advice is scorned as it always is by youth. Youth continues to be optimistic, and that is as it should be. Only when youth ceases to be optimistic will there be cause for pessimism.

Perhaps some day this world again will run along on an even keel, and it would be too bad if there were no people around to enjoy it.

A psychologist says so-called big citizens will steal from the government. How big is so-called?

EVENTUALLY... Why Not Now!

If you are under 66 and in good health

YOU CAN NOW JOIN BLUE CROSS and/or BLUE SHIELD NO MATTER WHERE YOU WORK

Ask yourself this question:

"If someone in my family has a bad accident or sudden illness, can I pay the hospital and medical-surgical bills without using my savings or borrowing?"

If your answer is No — and it is No for most people — you should join nonprofit Blue Cross and Blue Shield. Now you can! Every member of your family under 66 and in good health can join. It doesn't matter whether you work for yourself or in a plant with thousands of others. For former employment restrictions on non-group membership will be dropped up until November 30, in order to provide Blue Cross and Blue Shield benefits for thousands of additional people.

Together, these plans form the most comprehensive medical-care "package" in America today. With them, you'll have no pocketbook troubles when injury or illness strikes. And you'll assure yourself that you can afford the best of care.

Blue Cross takes care of the hospital services you need

In 13 years, Blue Cross has grown from a membership of zero to more than 1,700,000 — pretty convincing evidence that it performs an important family service. It has paid the hospital bills for more than 1,200,000 subscribers in the Philadelphia area! People trust Blue Cross, because it is nonprofit. No one person or group "owns" and benefits from it. Blue Cross belongs to the community.

Blue Cross provides you with hospital services — not a lump cash sum that may be far less than your bill. It takes care of semi-private room, meals, nursing service, operating room facilities, all medications in general use, including most "wonder drugs" — practically everything. All this for 21 to 30 days each year, depending on how long you have been a member. Maternity benefits may be included. Once a Blue Cross member, you can stay a member as long as you wish. Blue Cross benefits are nation wide.

Blue Shield pays all or most of your medical-surgical expenses

Like Blue Cross, Blue Shield is nonprofit. It is the doctors' own plan for helping people out with their medical-surgical expenses. Its membership is growing fast, for it, too, fills a long-felt need.

Blue Shield pays up to $200 for operations required by any illness or injury. At your option, it can help pay your doctor bills when you are hospitalized and no surgery is required. Maternity benefits may be included. Cooperating doctors have agreed to make no charge to you whatsoever for services covered by Blue Shield if you have only a moderate income (for example, if you have two or more dependents and the family income is not over $1,000).

Low-cost protection — because it is nonprofit

Your entire family — no matter how large — can have full Blue Cross and Blue Shield protection, including maternity benefits, for less per day than the cost of a pack of cigarettes! Blue Cross family protection alone costs about 9¢ a day. Single people pay much less.

No plan organized for profit could possibly give so much for so little. Blue Cross frequently pays hospital bills to the high hundreds—even thousands—of dollars!

If you work where a Blue Cross or Blue Shield group exists, it is to your advantage to join it. Group members pay somewhat less, and benefits are slightly greater. But no matter where you work, you can at this time join either or both of these plans as a non-group member, provided only that you are under 66 and in good health. There are no other requirements. Mail the coupon today, or telephone the number listed below for full information. You send no money and you are not obligated in any way. No salesman will call. You join either or both these plans only if you wish to do so. But hurry—applications can be accepted until November 30 only!

active community, interested in what goes on in our schools. And with 12,000 workers from U. S. Steel, it is expected to control the political picture with enough votes to elect their own commissioner, to improve the area to their own way of thinking.

"Leaving out the drones now existing in the township, social life will be changed to the extent of accepting kindergartens and nursery schools, as a necessity in the township.

"Economically, this large increase in population will place a new premium on homes and greater community privileges. This will not happen overnight but will probably consume three to four years."

"Bristol Township school district has sufficient space to accommodate influx of people but don't blame the school board for not building schools as it has no control of building or great improvements. It is up to the senators and local representatives. This county now has before the state legislature, bills asking for more federal aid to permit triple sessions. Due to the vastly crowded conditions in our schools, Saturday sessions are not out of probability."

"During my talk with Mr. Levitt," said Dr. Boehm, "he stated 'We are building for improvement of better schools and community projects, not just a landscaped scenic'."

Dr. Boehm closed with a statement: "Good schools and a good community lead to better education."

Mr. Packard called on committee chairmen for reports, after which Mrs. Nelson Simon, representative from the P. T. A., gave a brief sketch of her activities at the state P. T. A. convention held in Harrisburg, Oct. 29, 30 and 31. Among speeches, she was privileged to hear Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State College; Harold Staasen, president of University of Pennsylvania; and Dr. Ernest G. Osborne, of Columbia University.

Henry Decker, assistant principal, announced "open house" at Delhaas, Nov. 15th, from seven to nine.

Refreshments were served in the home economics room under chairmanship of Mrs. Alex. Liszewska.

At a meeting of the organization committee on Monday, district chairman reported 12 new troops meeting and 14 more whose leaders are currently taking Leadership training and will start meeting shortly. Leaders are needed for the 8th grade girls in Doylestown and Brownie and Intermediate troops in New Britain, for the Brownies in Bristol Terrace and for a mariner group in Croydon.

A meeting of Section 8, region 3, of the Girl Scouts of U. S. A., was held Wednesday in Pottsville, Schuylkill County. Attending from Bucks County included Mrs. Hill-borne Dean, New Hope, Girl Scout Council president; Mrs. Edward Blester, section secretary; Mrs. Fred Martin, Girl Scout Council nominating membership chairman, and Miss Jessie Brittingham, executive director.

Elementary Principal Tells of Education Week

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Dec. 9 —The Class Mothers Association of Cornwells Parent-Teacher Association held a meeting in the high school building Wednesday.

Mrs. Elsie Morgan, elementary principal, explained about American Education Week, which will be observed from Nov. 11th to 17th. On Nov. 12th parents will attend afternoon sessions, being invited to visit school, from one until 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Morgan also announced that school will be closed Nov. 15th, to permit teachers to attend a full day workshop in Bensalem high school.

It was decided the business part of the next meeting will be dispensed with in order that a film by the American Cancer Society may be shown. Members were asked to take friends to that meeting. Mrs. Florence Mueller reported on expenses for the Halloween party. The chairman of the refreshment committee for the next meeting will be Mrs. James Mitchell.

Give him these 3 R's too!

Time was, when a youngster could make his way with just a little reading, writing, and arithmetic. But those days are gone forever.

In today's stormy world, book learning is not enough.

Your child's future will depend on his ability to understand his rights, to accept responsibility, to improve human relations.

Can the schools do it?

Of course. Along with the traditional 3 R's, the schools are teaching children to think for themselves and search out truth. They are helping boys and girls to reject racial and religious prejudice, appreciate differences, and get along happily with others.

They are giving our youngsters something just as essential as facts and figures — know-how in learning to live with others and cope with today's problems.

Modern education can do all this and more. But only if you act. Only if you defeat campaigns that would impoverish our public schools and inflict out-moded education on our children.

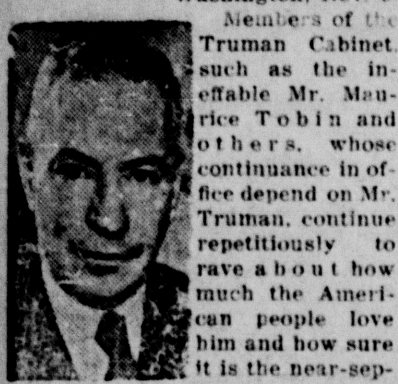

What you can do!

Use your influence—in your church, your PTA, your veterans' post, your women's club, your labor union, your business group. Talk up school needs. Demand top-notch teachers, up-to-date equipment, an enriched curriculum.

only the best will do!

THE BRISTOL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS By FRANK R. KENT

Chances Diminished? Washington, Nov. 9 — Members of the Truman Cabinet, such as the indefatigable Mr. Maurice Tobin and others, whose continuance in office depend on Mr. Truman, continue to speculate about how much the American people love him and how sure it is the near-septuagenarian ticket of Truman and Barkley will triumph in 1952. However, the fact is that the number of those who do not believe Mr. Truman will run again has been considerably augmented by recent developments.

Chief among these can be listed (1) the scandal of the crooked internal revenue collectors (coming on top of the RFC and other scandalous exposures), which has given added substance to the charge of Administration corruption; (2) the recent appointment of Gen. Mark Clark as Ambassador from this country to the Vatican, which has aroused a widespread protest from Protestant ministers and strong resentment in Congress. There are, of course, other reasons for the conviction that much as Mr. Truman enjoys promoting the mystery as to his intentions, there really is no mystery.

It is worth noting that in the past week three usually well-informed Washington political writers have gone on record as holding this view. One of these is a Fair Dealer and a personal friend of the President. Both the others have received the idea that Mr. Truman is now determined to nominate his friend, Chief Justice Vinson as his successor. Perhaps they may turn out to be mistaken and Mr. Truman find himself forced to make the fight, but more feel the other way now than before the Vatican incident. It seems to have changed the minds of quite a few.

It is easy to sustain the President's argument that we, along with 12 other nations, should have full diplomatic representation at the Vatican. It also is easy to sustain the argument that this conflicts with the separation of church and state policy strongly supported by a great many people, including some exceedingly important Catholics. What is not easy to reconcile with reason is the timing and manner of Mr. Truman's performance. There seems pretty general agreement that in this he made every possible mistake.

From the diplomatic, the political and personal viewpoints he appears to have alienated a considerable number of persons; managed the situation about as badly as possible. These things appear inconsistent with an intended candidacy. If he is a candidate, it just makes no sense. In fact the way he did make very little sense, no matter what he is. With slight chance of accomplishing anything useful, he quite needlessly raises a deeply controversial issue about which many will become excited and confused. This creates embarrassment in many directions and tends to obscure really vital questions in the campaign.

In the second place, it seems established that in reaching his decision Mr. Truman consulted with no one in the Cabinet except Secretary of State Dean Acheson. Secretary of Defense Lovett knew nothing about it until after the appointment had gone to the Senate. There was no consultation by the President with Democratic leaders, or with eminent Catholic prelates or laymen or with the Secretary of the Army, who is General Clark's immediate superior. Exactly who had his confidence in this business and who inspired him to act with such suddenness and secrecy is uncertain. No one seems to know.

It is resented in the Senate because the appointment was thrown into its lap just before adjournment when there was time neither to act nor debate. It cannot now be taken up until next January and the protests which have been made indicate a long and bitter hearing. It is resented by many Protestant ministers and organizations who bristle at any suggestion of a link between the Government and the church. It is resented in the South, where Mr. Truman is already weak and where it is held another reason for opposition. It is resented particularly in what is often referred to as "The Bible Belt."

And it is even resented by some important Catholics on the ground that the character of the announcement was so inept as to rob it of dignity and respect. It also promotes the charge of "crafty politics." The extraordinary thing is that apparently there was no pressure on him to do anything. Take all this, along with the other reasons for the belief that Mr. Truman has no intention of running in 1952, and it makes a formidable total. The only real pressure on Mr. Truman to run comes from the Federal jobholders who obviously have a personal stake in perpetuating his Administration. He ought to be able to see through that and not mistake it for a public demand.

the national government, by hostile factions from Harrisburg, by hostile fragments of the city government.

If everything which has been charged had been susceptible of proof, thousands of persons would be in jail today. But the truth is that there has been much smoke, very little exposed fire.

As for living down this long-continued broadside of defamation, the Republican incumbents at Philadelphia have tried in vain. The truth is, of course, that probably never in the history of the Quaker Metropolis has one Mayor done as much for the city as has "Barney" Samuels. His monumental works are on every side. Whatever else may be true about the big town, it certainly has plenty to show for his regimes.

Furthermore, for all of the attacks upon the Philadelphia Republican leadership, the fact is that recent tickets submitted to the voters have been distinctly "blue ribbon" candidates, head and shoulders above the opportunists and political hacks the Democrats have been offering.

Yet the Republicans have consistently lost.

Now the Democrats are in, and they face a show-down on whether they can make good the various promises made during several busy years.

They have been running, to date, against a sort of straw-man of their own creation, and now they are up against the realities.

They are going to find that Philadelphia confronts an economic problem of the greatest complexity. That problem lies in the fact that demands upon the city government for services and improvements have been skyrocketing during precisely the same two generations that have seen the moving out of an immense share of the city's taxable income.

The wealthy and the middle-class have been staging a vast exodus from Philadelphia. Adjoining counties have become the residences of a host of those whose earnings come out of Philadelphia, and whose activities there create a gigantic problem in the need for fire, police and other municipal services.

Great areas in Philadelphia which formerly were upper and lower middle class communities today are densely settled with those who are on relief or only a jump ahead of it.

Analyze the problems of Philadelphia as you will, and scold all you wish about buried subways and sesqui bonds and a fantastic public debt—always you come back to the hub of the question, which is the fact that there has been a siphoning off of the cream of the community's income by neighboring counties, so that today Philadelphia has a nesselrode appetite on a skim-milk pocketbook.

It will be possible very quickly to judge the good faith of the incoming Democrats on the simple basis of whether they admit this fundamental problem as being something the city is up against, regardless of whether City Hall is inhabited by Republicans or Democrats.

Much of what the Democrats have promised is substantially impossible, some of it would wreck them to try to make good.

The thought of firing two thousand drones out of city hall makes good campaign talk. But consolidation or no consolidation, it is next door to impossible. Moreover, the incoming Mayor has served notice that he wants to keep the competent and trained hold-over employees, and put them all under civil service. What is going to happen if and when the eager-beavers in the Democratic party, who supported this political revolution in the expectation of finding good jobs for themselves, discover that there aren't going to be as many jobs as they thought, and moreover, that competency and elbow-grease are going to be expected for the jobs which do show up?

It is almost certain that Philadelphia has been over-sold on the Clark-Dilworth combination. The voters have been blandly assured that these two would quickly do what has been described as a simple job, but is super-humanly difficult — eliminate graft and favoritism and influence-peddling from the vast city structure of government. They have been assured also that finances would be quickly put in balance, wholesale savings effected, and presumably the tax burden lightened.

Time will tell.

Meanwhile, the Democratic victory is hailed as a triumph of reform. Reformation is said to be in the air.

There is some comfort to Republicans in the thought that if this be true, and the public is at long last turning against corruption and the betrayal of trust in high office — then the days of the Truman Administration, greatest offenders of all history, certainly are numbered!

NEWS OF SCHOOLS IN AREA---

All public, private and parochial schools in the Bristol area are invited to send news items for publication in this column which appears frequently.

Delhaas High School

On November 15th, Delhaas high school will hold its annual "open house." This year, from 7:30 until nine p. m., Delhaas will welcome the parents and other residents of the township to meet the teachers, and see what work is being done by the children. Student guides, selected from the traffic squad, will show visitors around the school, and introduce the teachers who will be in their classrooms. Room 1 will have an exhibit of visual aids. Scenes of the school's activities will be shown on the "electroslide" machine. Refreshments will be served in the home economics room by girls of the Future Homemakers of America Club. The club is sponsored by Mrs. Selman of Delhaas faculty.

Tenth grade pupils will attend Temple University's 18th annual career conference in Philadelphia on Nov. 10th. Thirty-five pupils and four faculty members will attend group meetings in the morning, and the Temple versus New York University football game in the afternoon. Thomas J. Jenkins, 10th grade advisor, has organized the pupils for the trip.

Miss Edna M. Pennypacker, guidance director, attended the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Deans Association in Harrisburg on November 2nd and 3rd.

George School

NEWTOWN, Nov. 9 — George School's fall Campus "clean-up" day, Monday, was highly successful, reported Bradshaw Shipes, supervisor of the cooperative work program. All of the school's 445 students and most of the faculty took part in the three 1½ hour shifts.

Among the main projects were raking and hauling leaves and continuing the work of removing brush and sawing and axing trees left by last November's hurricane.

Clay was spread on the cinder track in addition to work on other parts of both boys' and girls' athletic fields; a new cross-country course was laid, cross country obstacle fences built; and a paint squad took care of parking posts, tool houses, bleachers, and benches. Other groups did road work, cleared flower beds, worked at the skating pond and at the farm.

A special crew under shop teacher Palmer Sharpless went to the home of a disabled neighbor where they repaired his porch, chimney, and pump. A biology class, led by instructor John Carson and assisted by Miss Mary Wilson and Stephenson Fletcher, Jr., Newtown, undertook pruning jobs.

Science teacher John Streetz was kept busy supervising both the construction of hurdles on the campus athletic field and the stretch of the new cross-country track by Newtown Creek.

Among the more colorful aspects of the afternoon was the special project of "Tommy" Frazier, of Hominy, Okla. "Tommy" rode his bicycle around the widespread groups and blew a bugle to signify the beginning and end of the work shifts.

Athletic events scheduled for last Friday and Saturday were cancelled by the bad weather.

Forty-five attended the afternoon session of the district meeting of Bucks County Rebekah Lodges, and the number was increased to 80 at the evening session on Tuesday in Odd Fellows hall, headquarters of Lily Rebekah Lodge, No. 366.

The opening of the lodge session was in charge of the local lodge members. Mrs. Jennie Dieterich, chaplain, gave the invocation. Responding to the address of welcome by Mrs. Howard Mitchell, was Mrs. Mary J. Burr, Evansburg, president of the Rebekah Assembly of Pennsylvania.

The business that followed was presided over by Mrs. Dorothy Shive, district deputy president of the Bucks County Rebekah Lodges. At five p. m., a turkey dinner, prepared by the W. S. C. S. of Harrison Methodist Church, was served to 35 in the church.

The initiation and degree work at the evening session was by the local lodge. Candidates were from Evening Star Lodge, Croydon, and Lily Lodge. Mrs. Mabel Bickel, noble grand of the local lodge, introduced the following who responded with remarks: President, Mrs. Burr; secretary of Rebekah Assembly of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Lois D. Elmore, Philadelphia; outside guardian of Assembly, Mrs. Revah Pettit, of Philadelphia; and marshal of the Assembly, Mrs. Clara Schreengost, of Indiana, Pa.

Gifts were presented by Mrs. Shive to the above guests and she in turn was presented with a gift by Mrs. Walter Rittler, past district deputy president of Bucks county. Other visitors were from Philadelphia, Croydon, Hulmeville and Sellersville lodges. Refreshments of ice cream, home-made cake, coffee and tea were served.

WARRIORS WILL BATTLE OWLS FOR THE CROWN

With the Lower Bucks County championship in balance, the Bensalem-Owls will play Bristol High tomorrow afternoon on the former's field in Bensalem Township. Opening kickoff will take place at two o'clock.

Any hope that Bensalem entertains for winning or deadlocking for the crown it now holds depends on the outcome of the fracas with the Warriors. A defeat to the Owls will eliminate them entirely from the race as Bristol has already won four league contests. Bensalem's league log is two wins, a defeat, and a tie, with Neshaminy still remaining to be played. Bristol has Morrisville on its schedule after this contest.

A month ago, anyone picking the Bensalem-Bristol winner would have chosen Bristol with ease. But the picture has changed in the last few weeks. Coach Marlon VanHorn's lads have hit their stride and have won their last three games after tying Morrisville. Its present record is four wins, two defeats, and a tie.

Bristol lost to Burlington on Tuesday after winning three straight games. Coach Anthony D'Angelo's team played a fine brand of ball in the first half and slumped in the second half. Coach D'Angelo has been hit hard by the loss of several key players, including Joe Muth, Joe DeFazio, and Gene Dugan. The latter missed the Burlington tilt while the other pair are out for the season. Several players were also banged up in the game Tuesday but may be ready for action against the Owls.

Outstanding in the Bensalem backfield is senior quarterback, Bob Whitfield, who does most of the ball handling for the VanHorn team and is a triple threat ace. It was Whitfield who led the offensive attack against Lower Moreland Monday and the Bensalem ace seems destined to have a position on the All-Lower Bucks team. Bristol will be out to stop the running, throwing and kicking of Whitfield and drilled on this during the remaining days of this week. Coach D'Angelo feels that if the Warriors' line can stop Whitfield, Bristol will have a much better chance for victory.

In a Lower Bucks circuit clash tomorrow night at Morrisville, Council Rock will be entertained by the Morrisville Bulldogs on the Robert Morris field. Kickoff will take place at eight o'clock.

Morrisville with two wins and a tie is still in the running for the Lower Bucks gonfalon while Council Rock is already eliminated.

In other games tomorrow, Neshaminy will play Royersford on the latter's field and Southampton meets Jenkintown.

Pennsbury will play this afternoon, meeting Bordentown Manual Training School Jayvees on Bordentown's field.

Matthew P. McCarthy, 23, formerly of Erie, who is now employed at the Hammond Iron Works in Bristol, pleaded guilty to drunken driving and was fined $200 and the costs. He was pronounced drunk by Dr. Romano and admitted he had five or six bottles of beer.

DELHAAS TIES WITH ST. FRANCIS IN GRID TILT

The Delhaas-St. Francis Vocational School football tilt on the Delhaas field, yesterday, ended in a 6-6 stalemate. St. Francis ended with four first downs, and Delhaas, three.

Both teams scored in the first session. Ace McGinn's pass to Gus DiBello, covering 10 yards, accounted for the Eddington team's score, while Gleason scored the Delhaas six-pointer on a 30-yard end sweep. Delhaas made two other scoring threats. Just before the first half ended, Francis Osborne intercepted a pass on the 20 and went to the 8, and in the final period the Delhaas boys worked the ball to the 12-yard line before losing it on downs.

Fencing Class Proves To Be Very Popular

NEWTOWN, Nov. 9—Fencing classes began at Neshaminy Valley Youth Center Saturday afternoon. Mrs. David Rishell and George Carleton, volunteer instructors, gave demonstrations of fencing technique.

Classes will be held at the Center every Saturday afternoon beginning at 3:30 p. m. Youth, 15 and over, and adults may join these free classes.

Bruce McGonigal and John DeYoung, two youths who attended the first class, said: "We never knew fencing was so much fun—and hard work, too. It's really a good sport."

An aggregate total of 1283 youth used facilities of the Center during October. Irwin Saulsbury, Director, announced. This is 589 more than attended during September. An average of 99 boys and girls have attended each of the four Saturday night free record dances, as compared to an average of 85 during the past month. Approximately 29 youth have used the snack bar facilities Tuesday through Friday nights. Activities these nights include ping pong, darts, and various card games.

The free play periods Saturday mornings had an average attendance of 29, seven more than the previous month.

The highest attendance for a single day was October 30th, 250 youth being present. One hundred used the Center as headquarters for the Halloween window painting contest, and 150 attended the Halloween dance.

The total number of youth using the Youth Center does not include the Brownies and Girl Scouts, the Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts, and the Junior New Century Club who hold meetings in the building.

Pack Christmas Boxes To Be Mailed Overseas

EMILIE, Nov. 9—Twelve members attended a meeting of the Prayer Circle Sunday School class, Emilie Methodist Church, taught by Mrs. James Harris, Jr., Bristol, held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. James Mershon, with the latter presiding.

Miss Marjorie Ann Scheese conducted devotions, entitled "Thanksgiving."

The group packed Christmas boxes to be mailed to seven Lower Bucks County service men stationed overseas—three to Korea, and four to Europe. The boxes contained food articles and a copy of the current issue of "Upper Room."

Tentative plans were made for a covered dish supper sometime in January.

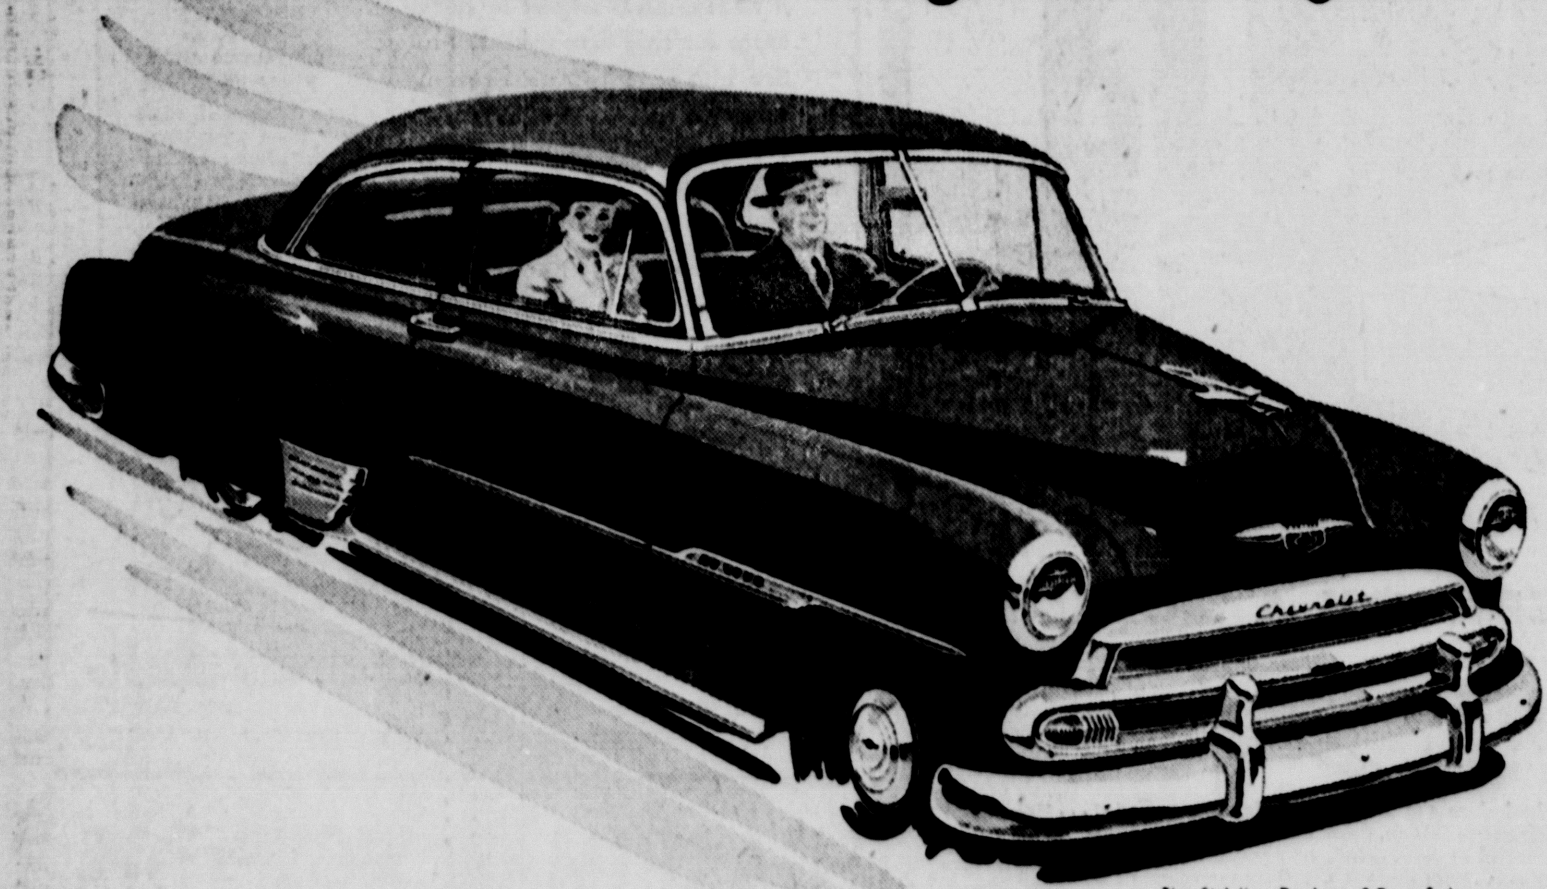

There will be exchange of "Prayer Pal" gifts at the Christmas party, Dec. 17th, at the home of the teacher, in Landreth Manor.
